WILSON APPEALS TO NATION

Will Discuss H. C. O. Living With League of Nations

AMERICA MUST STEADY UNBALANCED WORLD

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Making an appeal for the ratification of the peace treaty to turn the country from a war state (the president in his message to the joint session of congress said:

SILVER VALUES FOUND IN APEX

The veins carrying low silver values and apparently feeders for the main veins making in from the south of the Tonopah Divide are showing in the Apex Division at a depth of 184 feet a general appearance and geological structure these veins are identical with those opened at late at a depth of 254 feet in the Giant Divide shaft and the latter are in turn similar to those carrying hornblende in the Tonopah Divide workings. J. East Crowley, general manager of the two properties and of the Hercules and Anchor properties, will examine the ledges for which the veins are feeders if conditions continue to warrant with further deepening of the shafts.

The top gained quartz that made the Hercules shaft of late is reported to be increasing in width and value and to present an unbroken character. The shaft is being a depth of 200 feet, where a strong will be driven to the vein should geological conditions at that depth be as favorable as at present. An air pipe line connecting with the compressor at the Hercules is being run to the adjacent Anchor Divide shaft as soon as the hoist is installed at the latter, sinking will be started therein at a depth of 50 feet.

Attaching the Apex shaft to the other promising property, the Hercules. This group consists of four claims and geologists who have examined the property declare it to be in the direct trend of the Divide are bodies.

There can be no peace prices as long as our whole financial and economic system is on a war basis."

"A process just set in," the president said, "which is likely to bring something in done, to push prices and costs and the whole cost of living higher, and yet higher in a vicious circle to which there is no prospect of natural end."

"Some of the methods by which the movement produced are already direct ways of open criminality and those who employ them will be ever more and more pressed against, but others have not yet been brought under the law and should be dealt with at once by legislation."

Measures for reduction of wages or reduction of the price of living, the president said, were justified only if there be no other means of "bringing men to life."

By Associated Press.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 9.—The first direct uncensored mail from America to Germany began arriving Wednesday. This included communications sent recently and those held up a year or longer by the British government which announced they had discovered an extensive secret strike movement which, if successful, would lead a general railroad strike September 1. Spartacist and communist agitators were charged with being the leaders. It was officially stated that the discovery was made just when Germany believed itself quieting down while the rest of the world rioted and struck.

ELECTROCUTED AT HIS WORK

Kingsley L. Oxmer, day attendant at the substation of the Nevada-California Power company, was electrocuted last evening at 7 o'clock when his left arm came in contact with a bunch of live wires. The current passed directly through the heart and escaped through the right foot burning a hole through the sole of the shoe. An inquest was held this morning at 10 o'clock when a verdict in accordance with the circumstances was rendered. The jury was composed of Thomas H. Griffin, Edward J. Steerin, D. P. Donovan, Henry F. Nolmer, Cliff Hebert and J. M. Fox. The evidence disclosed that the deceased and Mr. Jones, chief electrician of the company, had been engaged yesterday morning performing hazardous work on the transmission lines. They finished two and Mr. Jones instructed Oxmer to let the others remain until he returned.

Deceased was working on the wires connecting with the high tension transformer which was cut off from the circuit and it is believed from the appearance of the wires that he fell back or unconsciously leaned against a live carrying 6600 volts and was instantly killed. His father, of whom he was the sole support was a witness to the tragedy. Dr. Church was summoned and arrived within a few minutes and reported that nothing could be done.

Mr. Oxmer came here from Los Angeles about a year ago and was in charge of the substation during the day. He was one of the most reliable men in the service of the company and lived directly opposite the station where it was customary for his father to come each afternoon to watch his son at work.

REPUBLICANS PROMISE TO SUPPORT PRESIDENT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Domestic problems facing the country may be taken up directly with the people by President Wilson on his forthcoming trip in the interest of the treaty. This was indicated at the White House today where it was announced that plans for the trip were going forward. Leaders of fifteen organizations of railroad employees united in the assertion that "they had no desire to impress upon the public by violence or threat their proposal that railroads be nationalized under tripartite control. He declared the requests for a reduction of living costs were disassociated with the question of future disposition of the railroad problem and added that if the president and congress could not meet the request of the men they would have to try to find another solution."

Attorney General Palmer ordered all department of justice agents to drop everything but their most pressing cases to devote their entire time in assisting the federal district attorneys in their food inquiries.

Republican Leader Mondell declared in the house that congress was ready to act promptly with legislation needed to carry out any suggestions the president made reducing the high cost of living. Although neither branch of congress is in session today, the leaders prepared to take early action. Although some members disagreed with the specific recommendations of the president they believe prospective legislation will follow his proposals.
